

FOR 100K BUSINESSES

14 ways to get customers to come back.

Most businesses near 100k only use two of them.

1. WELCOME EMAIL

The email that lands in the first hour after they buy or sign up.

It sets the tone for the next twelve months.

2. FIRST-WEEK ONBOARDING

Six to seven days of short, specific help to get the buyer to their first clean result.

3. SECOND-PURCHASE OFFER

One offer built for the buyer who already bought once.

Priced for the person, not the first-time visitor.

4. TOP-10 PERCENT CARE

The top ten buyers get a note from you. A question. A thank you. Something written by a person, not a platform.

5. WIN-BACK AT 90 DAYS

A short sequence to the buyer who has not come back in three months.

One real reason to return. Not a discount.

6. A CLEAR REASON TO STAY LONGER

Annual plan, membership, subscription. Price it far enough below monthly that the choice is obvious.

7. USAGE-BASED REWARDS

Your heaviest users get more. Faster support.
Early access. A small upgrade.

8. REFERRAL WITH A REASON

Not a coupon. A reward the current buyer actually wants, for bringing in a friend who actually fits.

9. COMMUNITY

One place current buyers can meet each other. A small group beats a big group every time.

10. CUSTOMER-LED CONTENT

One piece a month that comes from a real customer story. Not a case study. A voice note. A photo. A quick line.

11. PROACTIVE CHECK-IN

A short message at day 14 asking one specific question. Not 'do you need help.' A real question.

12. A SECOND PROBLEM SOLVED

Give the buyer a reason to use your product for a second job. The second use is the strongest signal they will stay.

13. A CLEAR NEXT STEP AT EVERY STAGE

A buyer who does not know what to do next drifts. A sentence in the right place keeps them.

14. A PERSON'S NAME TO REPLY TO

Every email should have a real human name in the from line. One real name. One real reply address.
