

MARKET AWARENESS

The one concept that changes all your copy.

Schwartz's 5 stages.

Stage 1: Unaware

They don't know they have the problem.

Copy angle: reveal the problem. Don't pitch a solution.

Stage 2: Problem Aware

They know the problem. Haven't considered solutions.

Copy angle: explore the problem's cost.

Stage 3: Solution Aware

They know solutions exist. Don't know yours.

Copy angle: differentiate your approach, not your features.

Stage 4: Product Aware

They know your product. Haven't bought.

Copy angle: proof, specificity, objection handling.

Stage 5: Most Aware

They're one offer away from buying.

Copy angle: the deal. Urgency is earned here.

The rule

You can't sell the solution before they're sold on the problem.

That's the whole game.

Diagnose the stage first.

Then write to it.
