

RETENTION AT 100K

14 ways to keep more of the customers you already have.

Most businesses run one. The first three move the most weight.

14

@muddassir

Swipe →

LEVER 1. THE FIRST 14 DAYS

The first two weeks after the purchase are where most of the loss lives.

Get this right and the rest gets easier.

LEVER 2. SORT YOUR CUSTOMERS

TOP SLICE

Buys the most, most recently. Worth ten times the rest.

THE REST

One-time or cold. Nice to have. Not where your time belongs.

LEVER 3. PRICE THAT MOVES WITH THE HABIT

Annual plans that save real money.

A small paid add-on that fits the habit.

A price that goes up for heavy users, not new ones.

LEVERS 4 TO 6

1

Email to people who already bought. Not to fill a list.

2

A small community, even a private chat, around the product.

3

A referral reason that rewards the buyer and the friend.

4

5

LEVERS 7 TO 9

1 Support that reaches out first, before the complaint.

2 Stories and reviews in the customer's own words.

3 A next step inside the product that fits this customer.

4

5

LEVERS 10 TO 12

1 Reminders in the right channel, not every channel.

2 A chat line for the heaviest buyers.

3 A letter in the post for the biggest ones.

4

5

LEVERS 13 AND 14

A short text message when something time-sensitive matters.

A workflow that mixes the product with a human hand, even once a month.

THE RULE

You do not need fourteen.

You need three, done well.

The first three move the most weight. The first one more than the other two combined.

NEXT STEP

Want help picking the right three?

Book a free call with me. Link in bio.

→ calendly.com/muddassir

@muddassir

10 / 10